BREED THEATER.

Peril of the Cliffs," Interesting Western Feature Today.

Aspers scenic story of the western hills is fold in the splendid Kalem film entitled The Perlis of the Cliffs. It features Mr. Cariyle Blackwell, the popular leading man of this company, and shows him as a young physician ith the accompanying perils of the new west. He falls from a steep preci-lice, is captured in a half-dying condition by some highwaymen, carried to their shack and held prisoner. He is discovered only when the highwaymen attempt to sell some of his jewelry which is recognized by his fellow-roomers at the hotel. The thieves are traced in an exceedingly clever manr to their shack and overpowered ad carried to the court of justice. Another splendid western story is by the Vingraph company, and is entitled Every Inch a Man, which is a story wherein two very capable detectives are captured by an amateur who has pestered the chief of the detectives for a position, until in desperation he is not upon the task which tion he is put upon the task, which he accomplishes so quickly and easily.

DAVIS THEATER.

The bill provided for the Davis thethe Mill provided for the Pavis the-ater will no doubt equal any given this season. The act that will deserve first mention is that of Rhonds' Mari-enette Theater. The perfection of me-chanical detail in this feature is simmarvelous, and moreover the me-inical and other features that are introduced are in themselves most attractive. The marionettes have a stage of their own, with an orchestra of redted make-believe musicians, Some McIntire and Sutton act is of the kind that will make the average man or woman revert to it in their conversation from time to time, and al-ways as one of the most pleasing and finishd "bits" yet offered by the new owner of the "setting more popular every day" Davis theater.

haif of next week, for the management has secured the Gus Edwards sextette, vaudeville classics and singing novelity for that date. These six clever people have a neat, well dressed, pleasing offering, which will no doubt draw big houses. Lew Fitzgibbons, an expert xylophone players, will also be seen on Monday's bill as well as Hayes and Sulter, a high salaried double act with quite some reputation in vandeville. On the picture programme for Monday, a special two-reel feature entitled Put Yourself in His Place, has been secured. This photoplay has been taken directly from Charles Reade's novel of the same name, which has been so widely read throughout the

POETRY

OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT.

Oft in the stilly night,
Eere siumber's chain has bound me
Foud memory brings the light
Of other days around me;
The smiles, the toars,
Of boyhood's years,
The words of love then spoken;
The eyes that stone,
Now dimmed and gone,
The cheerful hearts now broken.
Thus in the stilly night,
Ere siumber's chain has bound me,
Sad memory brings the light
Of other days around me.

When I remember all
The friends so linked together.
I've seen around me fall.
Like leaves in wintry weather.
I feel like one
Who treads alone
Some banquet hall deserted.
Whose lights are fled,
Whose lights are fled,
Whose spriands dead,
And all but he departed;
Thus in the stilly night.
Ere slumber's chain has hound me,
Sad memory brings the light
Of other days around me.

THE POETS. O ye dead Poets, who are living the limmertal in your verse, though life be fled.

And yet, O living Poets, who are dead Though ye are living, if neglect can kill. Tell me if in the darkest hours of ill,
With drops of anguish falling fast and rod
From the sharp crown of thorns
upon your head,
Ye were not glad your errand to ful-
